Program Cancellation	We reserve the right to cancel the trip if we received an insufficient number of enrolled participants. A full refund shall be provided if we cancel the trip due to a lack of enrollment. We, however, are not responsible for any preparatory costs incurred. We reserve the right to cancel the trip due to any “force major” issues, such as war, civil unrest, force of nature, bankruptcy of carriers, transporters, or service providers, health warnings, weather or any issues outside of our control that would make the trip unsafe or unwise.
Terms for dismissal of program without refund	All participants must conduct themselves in a manner that befits a student of any school. All participants must obey the guidelines set by the program leaders. If any participant conducts him/herself in a manner that is potentially harmful or disruptive, violates the law, or is otherwise disruptive or counterproductive to the goals of the program, we reserve the right to send the participant home without refund. There is a zero tolerance policy regarding illegal behavior. Participants who are dismissed from the program due to any violation of our guidelines or who elect on their own to return, for any reason, will be solely responsible for all travel costs, and any related costs, such as medical care, air carrier, hotel charges, etc. associated with the unscheduled departure.
Please Note	Our program itinerary may be altered at any time due to events such as weather, transportation issue, civil unrest, and other unforeseen issues. Our goal is to ensure that our program meets with your expectations, and we will endeavor to keep all changes within the spirit of our educational goals, stated plans and purposes.
Health Requirements and safety considerations	Travel to China always must encompass the latest health concerns. We will post updated health issues and links to health monitoring agencies for you review on our web site. All participants must submit as completed health form that is signed by a health care provider. All participants must be healthy to the point where they can safely travel and be in close proximity to others. We reserve the right to reject any participant at any time for health issues or for misleading, incomplete or inaccurate information provided by the participant or on the behalf of the participant. In the event of a medical emergency, JP Language Institute will attempt to obtain local medical treatment; However, we assume no liability regarding provision of medical care, and the applicant solely assumes that risk of any medical care that is provided. Applicants must have full medical insurance coverage while in China, and while traveling to and from China, and must confirm with their insurance provider that they have adequate health insurance coverage.
Limitations of Liability	Participants and their parents or guardians will be required to execute releases prior to being accepted as a participant in our program. For a copy of the releases please contact us at 1-866-735-3555 516-287-6575 or E-mail: Studyinchina@jpli.org
Governing Laws and Dispute Resolution	All disputes concerning literature or oral statements concerning the trip or the trip itself shall be resolved via mandatory, binding arbitration in New York City Pursuant to the then current commercial rules of the American Arbitration Association. In any such arbitration the substantive (but not procedural) law of New York will apply.
